PAPER

FROM

AARON JOHNSON

FRONT END ENGINEER

Dear Hiring Manager,

Thank you for taking the time to consider my candidacy.

With a professional background in the ad-tech and media spaces, and the past couple of years as a front-end engineer in the finance space, I'm currently looking to expand my horizons as a developer in an industry I can feel passionate about.

I must admit, as a parent of five, with one finishing college, two in their last year of high school and two in grade school, education has been a primary household focus for my family, and though I've yet to form a professional association with the industry, the idea of contributing toward a platform that aids educational fluency greatly appeals to me.

As a developer, my core experience is with JavaScript and the React framework, which technologies are part of my day-to-day tech stack, and though I don't regularly use Vue.js, my brief interactions with it have always produced echoes of familiarity within such that should it become more relevant to my work, I'm certain to meet the ground at full speed.

I bring a passion for developing and learning, a healthy respect for SOLID design principles and an "anything can be accomplished" mindset as primary assets, as well as a wealth of experience working across teams (and time zones) to facilitate maximum productivity.

I look forward to hearing more about this opportunity and what synergies may exist for an optimal collaboration.

Sincerely

Aaron Johnson
